Index Construction

Index	Underlying Futures Contract	Symbol	Exchange	Base Date

Dow Jones Industrial Average Futures Index	E-mini Dow ($5) Futures	YM	CME	06/14/2002
S&P U.S. Dollar Futures Index	U.S. Dollar Index Futures	DX	ICE	09/09/1997
S&P Japanese Yen Futures Index	Japanese Yen Futures	JY	CME	09/09/1997
S&P Australian Dollar Futures Index	Australian Dollar Futures	AD	CME	09/09/1997

Exchange abbreviations:

CME – Chicago Mercantile, Inc. or its successor.

ICE – Intercontinental Exchange, Inc. or its successor.

Futures Roll

Each index is constructed from futures contracts and includes a provision for the replacement of the index futures contracts as they approach maturity (also referred to as “rolling” or “the roll”).

The futures contracts reflect the changes of an underlying financial instrument and are therefore referred to herein as the “financial instrument index futures contracts”.

This replacement occurs over a one-day rolling period every quarter, which is five days prior to the last trade date of the futures contract.

Market Disruptions during the Roll Period

Market disruptions are situations where an exchange has failed to open so that no trading is possible due to unforeseen events, such as computer or electric power failures, weather conditions or other events. If any such event happens on the roll date, the roll will take place on the next business day on which no market disruptions exist.

Calculation of Excess Return Index

The excess return of each of the indices is calculated from the price change of the underlying futures contract. On any trading date, t , the level of each of the sub-indices is calculated as follows:

$$ERIndex_t = ERIndex_{t-1} * (1 + CDR_{t,t-1}) \quad (1)$$

where:

$ERIndex_{t-1}$ = The Excess Return Index level on the preceding business day, defined as any date on which the index is calculated.

$CDR_{t,t-1}$ = The Contract Daily return, defined as

$$CDR_{t,t-1} = \frac{DCRP_t}{DCRP_{t-1}} - 1$$

where:

$DCRP$ = The Daily Contract Reference Price of the futures contract.¹

Calculation of Total Return Index

Total return index levels are calculated as follows:

$$TRIndex_t = TRIndex_{t-1} * IndexTotalReturn_t \quad (2)$$

where:

$TRIndex_{t-1}$ = The Total Return Index level on the preceding business day.

Calculation of Index Total Return

For a funded investment, the total return between dates $t-1$ and t includes the risk free return for the initial cash outlay is calculated as follows:

$$IndexTotalReturn_t = (1 + CDR_{t,t-1} + TBR_t) \quad (3)$$

where:

TBR_t = The daily-compounding Treasury Bill rate, as determined by the following formula:

$$TBR_t = \left[\frac{1}{1 - \frac{91}{360} * TBAR_{t-1}} \right]^{\frac{Delta_t}{91}} - 1 \quad (4)$$

where:

$Delta_t$ = The number of calendar days between the current and previous business days.

$TBAR_{t-1}$ = The most recent weekly high discount rate for 91-day U.S. Treasury bills, effective on the preceding business day.²
